PARIS, Dec. 17 (UPI)—The NATO council called today for strengthening of the Western Alliance to deal with "uncertainties" caused by the shakeup in the Soviet Union and the Communist Chinese nuclear explosion. In a communique winding up their three-day winter meeting, the NATO ministers pledged continued efforts to lower East-West tensions and obtain German reunification. They ducked the key question of the multi-lateral nuclear force (MLF), which has been proposed by the United States and bitterly opposed by France.

John McCone May Resign As CIA Chief

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (UPI)—Strong indications that John A. McCone will resign shortly as director of the central intelligence agency developed today.

McCone's return to private life would open another high-level post for President Johnson to fill as he begins his new administration. Cyrus L. Vance, deputy secretary of defense, has been mentioned in some government circles as a possible successor for the CIA post.

Johnson made his first cabinet choice yesterday. He announced the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and named as his successor John F. Connor, 60, New Jersey drug manufacturer.

The announcement came on the heels of a report that Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon plans to resign within a few months. A Republican but a strong Johnson supporter, Dillon is expected to return to his family's New York investment banking business. In October, Johnson asked him to stay on indefinitely; Dillon apparently feels he cannot.

Speculation on Dillon's successor has fixed mainly on Donald C. Cook, head of American Electric Power Service Corporation, New York, and a longtime friend and adviser of the President.

Italians Fail To Elect New President

ROME, Dec. 17 (UPI)—The Italian parliament failed today in its second ballot to elect a new president. The first three ballots failed to elect a president by a simple majority in required for election, but no candidate has come close to gathering two-thirds majority, or 642 votes, required for election.

The requirement now is 452. Christian Democratic candidate Giovanni Leone was high man but steadily lost strength. He dropped from 310 on the first ballot to 304 and then to 298 on the third.

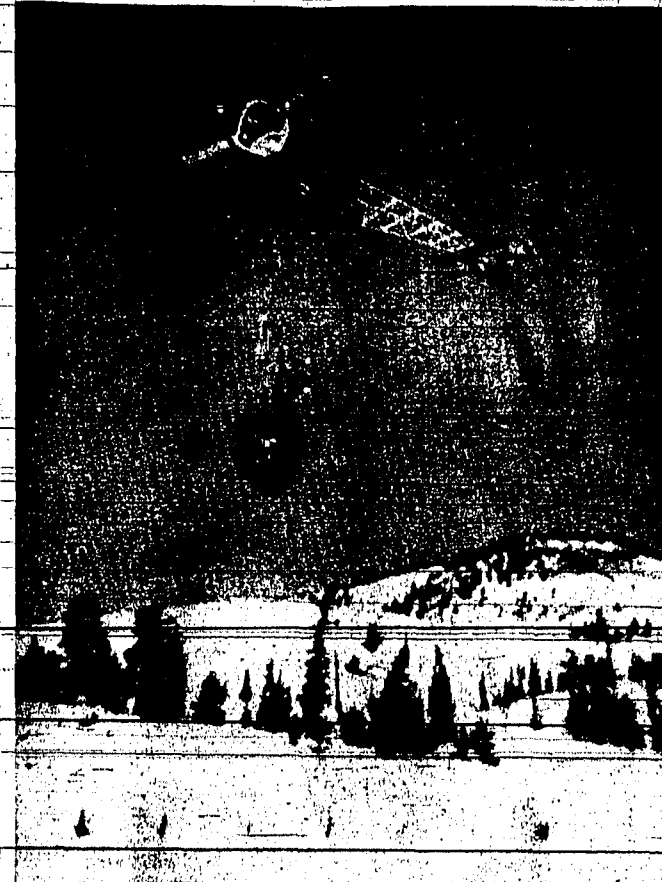

Former Premier Amintore Fanfani, a left-wing Christian Democrat, made significant gains. He had 191 votes today from 16 of the first ballot and 23 on the second.

The Socialists, Democrats, Radicals and Republicans of Christian Democratic Premier Aldo Moro's center-left coalition had firm on their insistence that the next president be a socialist. They threw all their 137 votes again to Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat, a Democratic Socialist.

The communists still held their block of 251 votes solidly behind communist Sen. Umberto Terracini. They were waiting to decide whether to throw them in a decisive vote.

ELEVEN SNOWBOUND CATTLE got a helicopter ride Wednesday. The animals were stranded in deep snow at 10,000 feet above sea level west of Creede, Colo. The first plan was to drop hay to the cattle from the helicopter, then break trail to the animals with a bulldozer. This plan proved impractical because of an intervening canyon, so the airlift was chosen as an alternative. Each animal was given a tranquilizer shot, then lashed securely to the helicopter and flown to a lower level. (AP wirephoto)

Goldwater, Aides Discuss GOP "Internal Friction" at Meet

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 17 (UPI)—The big three of the 1964 Republican presidential campaign concluded a second summit session today at the hilltop home of Sen. Barry Goldwater. Dean Rusk, the embattled national chairman, said they discussed "a little internal friction in the party." He did not elaborate. Rusk and New York Rep. William Miller, Goldwater's running mate in the November election, flew into Phoenix yesterday and left this morning.

Reds Call Airlift "Monstrous Crime"

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 17 (UPI)—The Soviet Union declared today that the U. S.-Belgian rescue mission to the Congo was "a monstrous crime" against the Congolese people and a threat to world peace. Joining the chorus of attacks from African countries, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the U. N. security council the landing of Belgian paratroops from American planes in Stanleyville last month was a blatant case of aggression.

Survey of Opinion on Proposed Area Job Corps Camp Being Completed Here

Sawtooth national forest personnel Thursday were winding up an unofficial survey of opinion in this area on the proposed Buckhorn job corps center before forwarding a recommendation to the President's office of economic opportunity.

The job corps center would be a work center for conservation projects.

Max Rees, Sawtooth forest supervisor, has been discussing the proposed center with local personnel. They were waiting to decide whether to throw them in a decisive vote.

The communists still held their block of 251 votes solidly behind communist Sen. Umberto Terracini. They were waiting to decide whether to throw them in a decisive vote.

U.S. Has Numbering Cold; Effects Are Strange and Tragic

A numbing blanket of cold air covered a vast area of the United States today. Lowest Temperatures Of Season Recorded

The bitter cold wave sweeping the Northwest Wednesday night plunged thermometers across the Pacific Valley to record lows for the season. Temperatures ranged from -2 in Twin Falls to -48 in Fairfield, Carey and Richfield all were back in session and it was clear and sunny throughout Magic Valley Thursday noon. Wind blew across the northern part of the valley all day Wednesday and some country roads will be clogged. At Fairfield it was reported school bus routes were plowed first.

Sun Valley Resort Ready For Opening

SUN VALLEY, Dec. 17 (UPI)—SKI instructors at this resort are "all set for the opening of the winter season Saturday and report that the various runs are as good or better than they have ever been on opening date.

Don Anderson, head of the resort, reported that the ski patrol members have completed a first aid and orientation course.

Joseph Leggett, vice-president of Janss Corporation, new resort owners, will host a ski school group from the University of California at a party in the lodge Friday night. Gov. Robert Smylie and his wife will be among those attending from Idaho.

At Fairfield-Boulder mountain ski lift has three days of "open house" according to Doran Clure, one of the instructors. He states that skiing should be excellent.

Willing

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 17 (UPI)—The Soviet Union is willing to make a payment of unspecified amount to Secretary General Thant personally to wipe out the threat to his vote in the United Nations, informed sources said today.

However, the sources said, Russia has indicated that it will not pay and will not agree to the new conditions were reported to be holding up settlement of the U. N. financial crisis. It was precipitated by Russia's refusal to accept its commitments toward U. N. peace-keeping operations in the Congo and other world hot spots.

Cambodia and U. S. Suspend Talks in India

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 17 (UPI)—Talks to improve relations between the United States and Cambodia were suspended today with no agreement reached.

The American and Cambodian negotiators said the discussions, which began Dec. 8 in New Delhi, resulted in a better understanding of their respective positions.

But there was no agreement on the issues, revolving mainly around the U. S.-aided war against the communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, a neighbor of Cambodia.

The U. S. negotiators, led by veteran diplomat Philip W. Evans, said they were returning to Washington to report on a number of Cambodian proposals "which will require considerable study."

Thant to Leave Hospital Friday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 17 (UPI)—Secretary General U. Thant has recovered from a duodenal ulcer and will leave the hospital Friday. It was announced today.

Thant has been absent from his office since Dec. 3 and in Le Roy hospital since Dec. 4 while recovering from a peptic ulcer. He has continued in close touch with United Nations affairs.

A U. N. spokesman said Thant hoped to take on more work at his home.

The secretary general of the United Nations has been X-rayed and his duodenal ulcer is healed. He is leaving Le Roy hospital on Friday for his home where he will convalesce a week before returning to his office at the United Nations.

Two Weeks Late

Twin Falls parents were warned Monday of at least four attempts to molest small children "within the last couple of weeks." The warning was two weeks late. It should have come immediately after the first attempt, with no delay. Fortunately, no youngster was picked up, but the community can't always be so lucky. Perhaps the next time there is a two-week delay in warning of child molestation attempts, the warning will come in the form of a tragedy that could have been avoided by putting all parents on guard.

It's not the first time officials have been reluctant to warn the community when a deviate attempts to pick up children. In a previous incident, one child actually was picked up, but luckily was not harmed. Authorities apparently placed more emphasis on trying to apprehend such a person than protecting the public. That's the wrong approach. The public should be warned first because it's physically impossible to guard each and every youngster in the city.

Once before the thought was voiced that the deviate should be apprehended and the public was advised that police were maintaining a watch near all grade schools. What about all the pre-school children? What about all the school children scattered all over the city within an hour after school has been dismissed? And what about week-ends when children are playing all over the city?

Parents are entitled to know IMMEDIATELY whenever such a danger threatens their children. It's not enough to warn teachers and principals. It's not even sufficient to lecture grade school children on the dangers of accepting rides from strangers. EVERYONE in the community is entitled to the information immediately. The first concern has to be for the safety of the children, not for the possibility of catching someone trying to molest youngsters.

Will the community have to experience a tragedy before this lesson can be learned?

EXIT GOLDWATER

Other leaders of the Republican party must have heaved a collective sigh of relief earlier this week when Sen. Barry Goldwater failed to include himself among presidential possibilities for 1968. Mr. Goldwater and his followers control the Republican party and will maintain control until the primary elections start in 1968. That has been the reason for his up-or-against-the-Nov. 3 elections. Other leaders in the party have been horrified by the thought Mr. Goldwater would maintain control of the party and perhaps try to assure his own nomination again in 1968.

Of course, Mr. Goldwater's attitude can change in the months and years ahead, but if he sticks with his statement this week, the Republican party may be over the hump so far as reorganization and unity are concerned. However, there was no indication Mr. Goldwater's conservative attitude will be changed. That's good, because the national political scene needs conservatives and liberals in both parties.

Neither is there any indication Mr. Goldwater will remain silent on questions of national interest. Although his statement indicated he will avoid the role of a national party leader and won't attempt the White House race again, Mr. Goldwater certainly didn't rule out possibility of commenting whenever comments are indicated.

Most important of all, he declared he will be a "working member" of the Republican party. It should serve as an example to the various wings of the party. Mr. Goldwater believes now he was defeated over before the election race actually started. Even so, his cause was not helped by all the intra-party warfare that occupied headlines for months, both before and during the campaign. Now that Mr. Goldwater has paved the way for party unity, all segments of the party would do well to bury the hatchet. As was pointed out quite emphatically during the Republican governors meeting in Denver, the GOP cannot afford to be a party of exclusion; it must be a party of inclusion and find a place for every Republican.

Following the Goldwater appointment, there's now an excellent chance that Dean Burch, the party's national chairman who was appointed by Goldwater, will bow out of the picture. His resignation would be the last bar to unity for the party. Goldwater supporters still would control party machinery, but it won't mean much until the 1968 election. History may yet show Mr. Goldwater's candidacy accomplished a great deal in revitalizing the Republican party. It certainly showed unity is indispensable.

WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—That was a curious decision handed down by the Supreme Court the other day, in striking down a Florida law punishing cohabitation between the races, the court insisted it was not judging state laws banning interracial marriage. Yet it did, in effect, say that such laws are unconstitutional.

Justice Potter Stewart summed it up for the court in a separate concurring opinion. He declared that no state law could be constitutional "which makes the act of cohabitation between the races a crime." And, of course, the basis of anti-miscegenation laws on the books of 19 states is the color of a person's skin.

COURSE IS SET. It is now only a matter of time before the court nullifies such laws in 11 Dixie states, the border states of Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma, and the northern states of Wyoming and Indiana. Presumably, the laws will be thrown out as soon as they are challenged in a court.

Justice Byron White, who delivered the court's unanimous opinion, insisted the court's action made it "unnecessary" for the court to decide the constitutionality of the Florida law against interracial marriages. But the opinion in itself invited a challenge of such laws. Justice White might have been fearful that the law might be challenged on the basis of the 14th amendment, which guarantees equal protection under the law.

Views of Others

WARM WINDS OF REFORM. "The warm winds of reform," said Rep. Richard Bolling the other day, "have been gently circulating through the halls of Congress." Mr. Bolling observed that the new congress will have the best opportunity in years to put its own house in order. So numerous "that billions are being floated."

Congress has operated in recent decades, the major situations have often been the result of sufficient votes were at hand for the enactment of popular measures but whether they could be maneuvered through various roadblocks. Both the senate and house have been so organized as to have enough votes to insure passage of bills. Frequently the leadership has been unable to obtain a vote on bills which the majority has presumably had a mandate to enact.

Now it is clearly possible for the large Democratic majorities in the house and senate to change this existing situation. A number of thoughtful reforms have been suggested by Mr. Bolling. Other pointed recommendations applicable to both the house and senate were offered recently by the 26 American assembly. Before the congress adjourns, Mr. Bolling's committee in Maryland outlined in detail the changes in the senate's rules that are needed to make it operate as a modern legislative body. The chief question is how far the two houses will go in this direction.

These hopeful reforms are to have a fair chance of passage, however, the new focus and cohesive support. What a pity that the congress did not put its best minds to work formulating a program of modernization that could be enacted at the beginning of the session.

INCOMPATIBLE WITH... A FREE SOCIETY. "Clearly incompatible with the basic principle of a free society." That is how three federal judges in San Francisco described the Michigan, Oregon and Washington laws which prohibit the dissemination of communist propaganda. The laws are unconstitutional, the judges held, because they violate the first amendment's guarantee of freedom of speech. The judges also said that the laws are "incompatible with the basic principle of a free society."

The intercepting of the mail began in 1948, was ended by presidential order in 1951, and started by executive order in 1952. It is time that the republic can survive anything that is an erosion of the freedom in which it was founded.

POT SHOTS

REASON FOR SHOOTING. Dear Pot Shots: The other night, I caught one of our youngsters reading in bed long after he should have been asleep. I bawled her out, but really, I was so happy to see her reading again instead of watching the boob tube.

Proud Parent (Twin Falls)

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND

Dear Pot Shots: I have a question—a day-to-day fire to the family manner while playing with matches. And he doesn't even need a babysitter to keep him out of trouble while you go out for the evening. And while you are out, you know he is not driving up and down the street, hurling water bombs at hapless passersby.

It is easier to housebreak than most children, or if he is not, he can be relegated to a home in the backyard, without having the welfare department looking into the matter. There is a leash law to keep your property, while little Mortimer from your house can not only scale my airlock fence, legally, but you can sue me if he falls off and breaks his arm in the process of his trespassing.

If I do dig out from under his fence and then your overgrown son for his car, his bathroom, you can call the dogcatcher and have him incarcerated. But if Mortimer visits my fence and digs up my prize rhododendron (which took me two years—actual time—and upwards of $50 to get to grow to the point where THIS year it might just bloom) any complaint I might make will meet with the comment, "Well, kids will be kids."

Fido will not come to me in his teen years, asking for the keys to the car and an increase in his allowance. Nor will he require a second car for his own personal use. He has no use for dancing and/or music lessons. His clothing fashions do not change from minute to minute, and he wears his hair the same length. Beagles or no Beagles, in fact, he shows "mutual" inclinations by howling when Beagle records are played.

He does not think I am square when I do not dig the latest styles in dress, music, etc., and he thinks I am the greatest human in the world. And he MINDS when I give a command.

Religion in America

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—A great social experiment is about to get under way in a rural, overpopulated section of the nation's capital.

It is in one of the first large-scale community action projects to be launched in connection with the war on poverty. Its purpose is to demonstrate what can be accomplished by a concerted effort.

The target area is a learning inner-city district within a few blocks of Capitol Hill. It is known locally as the Cardozo area, because it surrounds a high school named in honor of the late Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Cardozo. Within its boundaries live about 150,000 persons, most of whom are Negroes of low income and low educational attainment.

The Cardozo project embodies two basic concepts which are being tested in the area. One is the concept of a "neighborhood development" in which any and all of the area may go for free help—including assistance in dealing with government red tape that often blocks their access to public welfare services.

Financial aid will be provided to a non-profit organization called "Better Housing, Inc." to buy and renovate some of the old buildings in the area which are being sold up into tiny coldwater flats and rented to large families at prices far above their ability to pay. The objective is to provide decent family housing at minimum cost.

World Corners

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Since 1958, Mohammed Ayub Khan has been Pakistan's first under martial law and since 1962 under a system of "basic democracies."

The "basic democracies" were devised by Ayub, a former commander-in-chief of the Pakistani army, to replace the parliamentary system for which he says the 85 per cent of the population are not ready to establish rule under a strong president.

In effect, it strongly resembles French President Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic. Elections naming 80,000 "basic democrats" who will in turn select the next president have just been completed.

These elections are expected to vote on Jan. 2, and what had been expected to be a "walk-away" victory for Ayub now may be something less than that.

The reason is a 21-year-old aspirant who is the son of the revered Mohammed Ali Jinnah, founder of Pakistan.

CAIRO, Dec. 17—Often in frustration over the political situation that has been the cause of the great underdevelopment of the Arab world, the Middle East ask what would happen if the situation were reversed.

The answer seems to be: chaos and ruin spread over wide areas of the East. The Middle East is a question of whether Red China, playing to dominate the nations of Asia and Africa, really wants to take over the Middle East. Any answer must be speculative. But it would seem probable that any attempt to take over would come only after millions had died of starvation, communal fighting and a general breakdown of law and order.

In the role of order keeper and stabilizer, the American position in the latter part of the 20th century is infinitely more difficult than that of the British in a similar role at the end of the last century. Then the judicious use of a little force went a long way.

In the other simpler age crop failures occurred and millions died of famine. Other millions died of malaria and cholera. The mysterious plagues spread by fifth and hunger.

Western science and technology and the growth of the humanitarian ideas have put an end to that. The revolution of rising expectations has ended the lowest peasant to believe he can improve his position in life and eat a little more and have one or two extra garments to wear.

The new educational services include five "pre-school" centers at which 3 and 4-year-olds will get nourishing meals, proper medical care and the kind of learning experiences such as playing with blocks, drawing or just talking to a sympathetic adult which middle-class children get at home.

In addition, several schools will remain open until 5 p.m. each day, in order to provide remedial reading classes, individual tutoring and other help to children of elementary school age.

Other phases of the Cardozo project are designed primarily to benefit adults. There will be three "neighborhood development" centers in which any and all of the area may go for free help—including assistance in dealing with government red tape that often blocks their access to public welfare services.

The neighborhood centers will operate credit unions and conduct consumer education programs to help poor families avoid getting into trouble with installment purchases or "easy credit" plans.

Estimates Vary on Size of General Fund

By RICHARD CHARNICK
BOISE, Dec. 17 (AP)—Agencies depending on the general fund for their operating income are going to have to settle for half as much in the 1959-60 biennium.

They have put in budget requests totaling 153 million dollars but legislators answering a UPI questionnaire said the state can't afford that rich an operation.

Estimates varied on the size of a general fund budget lawmakers think the state can afford. But better than 50 per cent seemed to think 130 million dollars would be adequate, providing a new tax or a tax increase is imposed.

The state's general fund budget in 1959-60 is 101.9 million dollars in 1959-60 to 101.9 million dollars in the current biennium. A drop in anticipated revenue brought a spending cutback of 4.8 per cent this biennium and there is some question that even that reduction will be sufficient to balance the budget.

Budget Director Don Y. Walker, however, said the state's general fund revenue will exceed 93.5 million dollars this biennium. That would be 3.5 million dollars short of authorized spending under even the cutback. Auditor Joe R. Williams and Gov. Robert E. Smylie disagree with Walker. They believe there will be enough money to balance the budget.

With this in mind and a prediction by Walker that the present tax structure will raise only 98 million dollars the next biennium, three per cent of those answering the UPI questionnaire forecast a budget of 110 million dollars or less for the next two years. Seven per cent think it will reach 118 million dollars. 21 per cent predict 120 million dollars, 13 per cent forecast 125 million dollars, seven per cent forecast 130 million dollars, 17 per cent anticipate 135 million dollars, three per cent want 140 million dollars and the rest either had no answer or were undecided.

Virtually all the lawmakers answering the poll seemed to agree that the state aid to education hold the key to the general fund budget. This aid rose from 21 million dollars in 1959-60 to 40 million dollars for 1963-64. The state board of education has asked for $67,270,000 in the coming biennium.

Fifty per cent of those answering this questionnaire said they felt the state board's request for a $27,270,000 increase in public school aid was unrealistic. Twenty per cent said they felt it was realistic and the rest either did not answer or were undecided.

Not some of those who felt the request to be unrealistic indicated they probably would vote for it if sufficient revenues could be found. Forty per cent of those answering the questionnaire would not commit themselves on the question. Of those taking a stand 30 per cent said they would vote for the requested increase and 30 per cent said they would not.

Rep. Jack A. Wood, Jr., D., Donipoleville, was among those who favored the increase sought by the board. Sen. Lloyd Barron, R., Canaan, was among those opposed to it.

"We can afford anything we think is important," Wood said. "We seem to have a great number of two-car families, a great number of boats, a surplus of night clubs, horsing around and many recreational activities so I think we can afford to at least bring education up even with the average of the western states."

"This request may be realistic as far as the optimum needs of educators is concerned," Barron said. "But certainly not realistic here."

Wood foresees a 135 million dollar general fund budget and Barron, 120 million dollars.

Nuclear Plant For N.Y. Area Is Disclosed

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 17. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today disclosed plans today for construction of a multi-million dollar nuclear desalination plant on the eastern end of Long Island.

The governor said he would ask the 1965 legislature for an appropriation of $5 million dollars as an advance to the New York state atomic and space development authority to undertake the project, with this aid of federal funds.

The project will produce one million gallons of pure water a day and 2,000 kilowatts of electricity.

In proposing the plant, the governor said:

"No nuclear desalting plant now exists anywhere in the world. This project will therefore demonstrate a new peaceful use of atomic energy with application not only here at home but also in many of the Earth's underprivileged regions whose need for new sources of water were highlighted in a recent United Nations report."

"The shortage of water on the eastern end of Long Island becomes more of a problem with every passing year as population grows, industry expands and the conventional sources of water are fully used."

Rockefeller said that while the plan is a pilot project, it could open the way "to unlimited supplies of water which will no longer rely on wells, which are subject to contamination from salt water and other sources."

Proceeds from the sale of the power and water are expected to meet the annual operating costs of the installation, Rockefeller said.

Moon Jobs Are Limited, Applicants Many

HOUSTON, Dec. 17.—The moon is still at least six years away for the United States, but already it has an unemployment problem. There are more people who want to work there than there are jobs.

But the few openings available are hard to fill. The perfect moon employee, going by the federal space agency's announced hiring standards, is a cross between a scientific research genius and an all-around Olympic athlete, a hard type to find.

The position for which these rare paragons are sought is that of "scientist-astronaut." There are as many as 20 openings. The space center said today that applications for them have been pouring in at a rate of 20 a day. There are now more than 800 people on file as applicants.

The winners will have a chance to go to the moon sometime after 1970. For those who are interested, the application deadline is Dec. 31. Write directly to: Eisenhower Astronaut, postoffice box 3201, Houston, Tex. (Zip code No. 77058).

The space agency is looking for full-fledged scientists, male or female, to conduct exploration of the moon after the first lunar landings in project Apollo. The trainees will join the present 28 astronauts in Houston sometime next spring.

Basketball players need not apply. The limited confines of an Apollo capsule holds an astronaut's height to a maximum of six feet. Otherwise, the faces the prospect of making like a pretzel for about eight days. Eyeglasses are out. Space helmets are built for those who 20-20 vision. Contact lenses won't work because those pesky little things have a habit of slipping off the eyeball, often at inconvenient moments.

Age limit for this, the fourth group of applicants, is 34. Otherwise, an astronaut could find himself a very old man, comparatively speaking, by the time his number came up.

Once past the stringent physical demands, a prospect is only halfway there. Anyone with a mere college degree can forget about it at this point.

The space agency's requirements include a bachelor's degree and a doctorate in the natural sciences, medicine or engineering—or the equivalent. Moreover, applicants will have to prove it with transcripts of academic records.

All this has done little to stem the flow of applications. But it has enabled the selection officials to be a bit choosier at the outset.

Of the first 800 to apply or to indicate interest, the space agency tossed out about 200. As might be suspected, most of those were found to be lacking physically or were not citizens of the United States.

To some, however, even the rejection slips will be worth saving. Their grandchildren will know that at least they tried.

Utah Juvenile Court Bill Is Hit By Group

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 17—A juvenile court bill being prepared for the 1965 Utah legislature came under attack yesterday from a citizens' committee for effective juvenile courts charged that the proposed legislation would not help reduce the "so-called" juvenile crime rate because it allowed the "philosophy of protecting the hard-core offenders to continue."

The bill was prepared by a subcommittee of the Utah legislative council.

The citizens' committee said that while the bill provides for a "separation" of the juvenile courts from control of the welfare department, it does not separate the courts from the "welfare department philosophy."

The bill provides for the establishment of a five-member commission to name the juvenile court judges and supervise administration of the courts. The committee believes the juvenile court judges should be elected, rather than appointed, and that there should be public and open courts for all serious juvenile offenders.

Buhl Adopts New Law for Dog Control

BUIL, Dec. 17—A new ordinance providing for the licensing, regulation and control of dogs was adopted by the Buhl city council in an effort to provide more protection for local residents, city officials announced today.

The ordinance calls for anti-rabies vaccination of dogs within the designated time in addition to offering protection to animals by making it unlawful to be cruel to dogs and prohibiting dog poisoning.

All dogs over the age of 6 months, except hunting or mainly used by any person in the city of Buhl must be licensed and registered. License sales begin Jan. 1 with fees set at $4 for a female dog and $5 for male dogs. At the time of application, a license, the owner must present a certificate from a veterinarian showing the animal has received his anti-rabies vaccine.

A public service to the community the two Buhl veterinarians, Dr. H. E. Hammquist and Dr. Myron E. Hammquist, and the city will be authorized to sell dog licenses. This will give residents an opportunity to obtain their dog licenses at the same time they have their dog vaccinated. Other months licenses are to be purchased at the city hall.

The owner of any newly acquired dog must license the dog or any dog which attains licensing age shall make application for a license within 10 days after acquisition or age attainment. The owner of any dog who fails to license his dog within 10 days after the deadline shall pay an additional $2 fine in addition to a license fee. It is pointed out dog tags are not transferable from one dog to another. If a dog tag is lost or destroyed, the owner can be fined for 30 cents.

The ordinance also shows it shall be unlawful for any person to maltreat or torture a dog in an inhuman manner. Also it shall be unlawful for any person to administer poison of any sort whatsoever to any animal. It is pointed out any person violating the provisions of the ordinance upon conviction shall be fined not more than $100 or be imprisoned in the city jail for a period of not more than 30 days, or both.

The ordinance also makes it unlawful to harbor stray dogs.

Cigarette Industry Unveils Stiff New Advertising Code

NEW YORK, Dec. 17—The cigarette industry yesterday unveiled a stiff new self-imposed advertising code designed to forbid all advertising that might tend to encourage young people to smoke.

Former New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner will administer the code governing hundreds of millions of dollars worth of advertising in newspapers, magazines, television and radio. Meyner will have the power to fine tobacco companies up to $100,000 for violations.

Some of the actual provisions of the code were stringent. They forbid advertising by athletes and other celebrities or their depictions in cigarette advertisements, whether printed or on television, is forbidden if, in the opinion of Meyner and his staff, their use would have a special appeal.

The use of models or imaginary persons in photos, drawings or as live talent who are under 25 is forbidden. The first rule of the code says no cigarette advertising may be designed to appeal to persons under 21. No ads at all may be used in publications or on television or radio programs designed to appeal to minors. No radio or TV cigarette spot ads may be placed.

Lions Chief Visits Club At Richfield

RICHFIELD, Dec. 17—Lions club district governor Robert McConaha, Ontario, Ore., made an official visit to the Richfield club at the ladies night dinner meeting Tuesday at the Methodist recreation room.

McConaha briefly reviewed the Sun Valley election convention and Lions International meet in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. He traced the beginning of Lions in present day membership in 127 countries and counted factors making the clubs successful.

He related the emblem exemplified achievements of the past and prospects of the future to the aim of Lions clubs, and the motto "We serve" meant dedication of members to the service of fellowmen and the community.

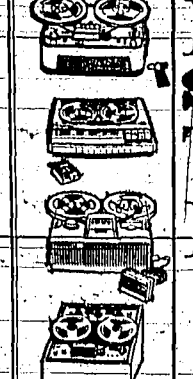

No said the Lions were trying to keep a little of the Christmas spirit—goodwill towards men—in the world today. He stressed present conditions in many countries as caused by the loss of a sense of social responsibility and concern for others.

The district governor, principal of the Ontario high school, was served by the club members. He was accompanied by his wife.

Albert Polley, Richfield Lions club president, presented the speaker and served as master of ceremonies. Theo B. Brunk was program chairman. Marilyn Patterson played piano medleys during the banquet and to conclude the dinner, Mrs. Helen O'Brien Ward gave the invocation.

McConaha met with Richfield club officials in a short business session at the conclusion of the evening. Mrs. McConaha was wife of the club member, Mrs. Thilo Polley, Miltonvale, Kans., was also a club guest.

Fairfield Church Slates Program

FAIRFIELD, Dec. 17—The annual Sunday school program of the Fairfield Community church will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday, according to the Rev. W. James Post, pastor.

"Carols of Christmas" will be the theme of the program this year. It will be based on the stories about the origin of some of the well-known carols. Some carols will be sung by three different choirs from the Junior, Primary and Beginners departments of the Sunday school. The high school choir will be featured in a choral reading.

The Fairfield Schoolers couple's club is meeting Saturday evening in the church kitchen to make popcorn balls and to prepare the treats to be given to the children attending the program.

The Rev. Mr. Post states the public is invited to attend the program.

Idaho Legislature May Get Plan for Requiring Photos on Driver Licenses

BY RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE, Dec. 17—Legislation to require a colored photograph of licensees on all Idaho driver's licenses is being prepared for submission to the 38th legislature.

Proposed but defeated in 1963, the legislation will have the state department of law enforcement. It is being pushed by the Idaho Retailers Association and other groups who see in it a possible way to slow down the bad check artists.

According to E. R. Hopper, commissioner of law enforcement, the proposal is "being backed by the commercial people—the chain stores, grocery stores, banks and so forth."

He said the proposal is not the brainchild of his department but "we are agreeable if they want it. And, of course, if industry wants it we couldn't stop it anyway."

"A bill was put in the last legislature for it but we had to try to kill the bill at that time because we didn't know what we could do with the picture. We didn't know whether we could use this machinery with a picture."

Now, he said, it appears the department can handle the pictures.

In a recent legislative report, the retailers association said that "all areas of law enforcement feel this proposal would be extremely valuable in aiding in the apprehension of criminals and in over-all improved law enforcement."

"Having pictures on driver's licenses would help keep minors from purchasing beer or liquor by getting beverages and will help the merchants to better identify teenagers attempting to purchase beer with false identification," the retailers' report said.

The bill also noted that when a photograph would be an improvement to the license, it would be a check on the license. It will not solve all your check problems but it will certainly help."

"The state department of law enforcement has investigated the proposal thoroughly and they have determined that the increase in administration, that is, the pictures and making the license, would be relatively simple and low in cost."

Hopper said that as a "general thing the addition of a photo to the license would not have great value in law enforcement, although he said it would prohibit persons from loaning driver's licenses."

"Otherwise," he said, "it's not much value to us but it is of tremendous value to the industry."

He said there is a company that specializes in handling such matters and which would provide the equipment and training necessary. At the least level, it said the program would raise the cost of an operator's license to $4.75 from the present $4.

Of the additional .75 cents, Hopper said, .25 cents would go to the individual counties to help defray their costs in the project. The remainder to the department and the remainder to the photographic firm.

He said this would not require any additional appropriation from the department, that it would "pay its way."

Eggshells Can Be Used for Decorations

BY ALLEN SNODDY

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (NEA)—The person who has been stymied once by a do-it-yourself project "so simple a 10-year-old can do it" has a show-me attitude from then on.

Eyebrows went up, for example, when a woman proposed decorating eggs to use as Christmas tree ornaments. Putting the idea to the test was Susan Friedlander, 10-year-old daughter of a photographer for a magazine (Family Circle).

Nervous at first, Susan soon became adept at peeling both ends of an egg to blow out its contents.

Eggs may be left plain or dyed. Trimming can be almost anything. Use of two colors for each egg, such as green and gold, makes a simple but decorative scheme once all eggs are ready for hanging.

Essential tools include extra strong polyvinyl (white) glue, scissors, tweezers and toothpicks.

For an antique look, use tinsel bits of ribbon, colored glass or cutouts from old Christmas cards.

To blow out an egg, shake it a few times to loosen the membrane. Make a pinhole in each end and blow the contents into a bowl. Loosen stubborn incrustations by inserting a thin wire into the egg.

Rinse and dry egg thoroughly. Work with each eggshell in an eggcup or large bottle cap. To apply glitter, brush glue completely over egg and roll the egg in the glitter. For dry, use toothpicks to apply glue to ribbons, beads and similar trimmings and attach those on the clean eggshell. Tweezers are a big help in pinching small beads or sequins in position.

To hang the egg on a tree, mantle or in a doorway, insert two ends of a loop of thread well into the hole in the small end of the eggshell. Cover the hole opening with glue applied with a toothpick. Let this dry before starting to decorate.

Susan found she was all thumbs at first but soon got the feel of working with the delicate eggshell. And she soon improvised with decorating ideas of her own once she mastered the basic steps which her father found in his publication's 1964 Christmas Yuletide issue.

T. F. Postmaster Thinks Mail Volume Will Top Last Year's

"We expect at least as many pieces or more of Christmas mail this year than last year," said T. F. Postmaster Fred Sanger Wednesday. He said that by the end of the four-week Christmas mailing period the volume should increase from two to five per cent over last year, which is typical of postoffices throughout the nation.

According to Sanger, during the 28-day period last year 2,350,000 pieces of mail passed through the office. He said the period between Dec. 18 and 30, when the incoming and outgoing mail are at variance, is the busiest period. By Dec. 20 nearly all the mail in incoming. Parcel mailing has already begun.

Sanger said that since he began postoffice work in 1927, the heavy mailing period had advanced about three days.

To handle about 10 per cent of the year's mail during a three-week period, it is necessary for the local postoffice to employ about 25 extra persons. Parcel post deliveries began Dec. 14 and will work about 10 days, while the five extra clerks inside the office began Monday and will stay for about seven days.

The postmaster said he had been fortunate in having extra personnel during this busy time who had worked at the postoffice in previous years.

Christmas mail is more difficult to handle than regular season correspondence, since much of the writing is irregular and old addresses are used. Sanger said that it took the office employees longer to mark up mislabeled mail than to distribute the incoming mail.

We receive about 100 or so letters to Santa every year," Postmaster Sanger said. "These are packaged up and sent to the YMCA to be screened for hardship cases. When a child asks for something most people would consider a luxury, the family is considered."

County Resident Named in Suit
A $6,678.55 suit stemming from a two-car accident Aug. 10, in Odean, Utah, has been filed in seventh district court against a Twin Falls county resident, who was driving one of the cars involved in the accident.

Richard Hawkins filed the suit against Marvin Dune Yurd, claiming that the 1955 Oldsmobile Yurd was driving Aug. 10, collided with the rear of a 1961 Ford driven by Hawkins.

Hawkins is asking, in the suit, for $5,000 general damages; $468.50 in special damages and $210.27 in property damages.

Mr. and Mrs. Ash are asking for $25,000 damages allegedly incurred by Mrs. Ash and $5,000 damages incurred by Mrs. Ash and $3,000 for severe pain and suffering incurred by Mrs. Ash and $3,000 for severe pain and suffering incurred by Ash is requested.

In addition, they are asking for $518 hospital expenses and $200 for vehicle damages, $1,500 for loss of work by Mrs. Ash and $884 for loss of work by Ash.

The Ashes allege that as a result of Mrs. Bean's driving, their vehicle was forced off the road and into a borrow pit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ash are asking for $25,000 damages allegedly incurred by Mrs. Ash and $5,000 damages incurred by Mrs. Ash and $3,000 for severe pain and suffering incurred by Mrs. Ash and $3,000 for severe pain and suffering incurred by Ash is requested.

In addition, they are asking for $518 hospital expenses and $200 for vehicle damages, $1,500 for loss of work by Mrs. Ash and $884 for loss of work by Ash.

that there were fewer packages than usual last year in less than three weeks 33,784 outgoing and 41,011 incoming parcels were handled. (Times-News photo)

Investigated as to need and gifts are provided for the children through organizational work.

Most of the letters read something like this: "Dear Santa Claus, For Christmas I want a walking-talkie and a G. I. Joe and clothes for mom and I would like a doll for my sister."

The letters are quite often marked five-cent postage due and Sanger said this is ignored. However, many of the letters to Santa have trading stamps or hand-drawn postage. A large array of envelopes is used, ranging from mother's or sister's best stationery to Sears and Roebuck mail order envelopes.

Sanger said the postoffice hopes to have the mail "pretty well cleaned up by Dec. 24."

Bribery Case Shocks City In Nebraska

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 17 (AP)—The indictment of 39-year-old Mayor James Dworak on bribery charges in connection with a million-dollar apartment project left public officials and citizens "shocked and ashamed" today.

A city councilman said yesterday's grand jury action marked one of the darkest days in our history. A long-time city hall employee said he was "sick about it."

Dworak, who has been mayor of this meat-packing center for three years, was indicted with four other men on charges of bidding for thousands of dollars to build a public housing project.

The charges were brought by John B. Coleman, a Chicago builder-investor, who said Dworak agreed to pocket a $25,000 campaign contribution in exchange for a promise not to veto a rezoning action for a one-million-dollar townhouse apartment project.

The allegations were published last September in the Omaha World-Herald.

"I cannot and will not do business with grafters," Coleman said.

The other four men indicted, who along with Dworak, were city councilmen Ernest Adams and Stephen Novak; former city planning board member C. R. (Harvey) Buttner, and contractor Ronald Aboud. All five were released on $2,500 bond.

Bruins to Host Nampa, Borah; Declo Schedules Holiday Hoop Tourney

Borah's No. 1 ranked Lions, looking more like the the New York skyline than a high school basketball team, and the Nampa Bulldogs, whose height is only better than average, move into Twin Falls Friday and Saturday night to test the undefeated and fourth-rated Bruins. The Bruins will meet Nampa Friday night and we certainly can't look past them and point toward Borah Saturday. notes coach

MURK WILLIAMS ... averaging 18 points per game in his first four outings, will lead Twin Falls against the Nampa Bulldogs and Borah Lions Friday and Saturday nights. The Bruins' Nampa Idaho conference opener, Borah is ranked No. 1, Twin Falls fourth and Nampa, 10th. (Times-News photo)

Mantle Wants To Play for 5 More Years

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, star outfielder of the New York Yankees, said Wednesday he hopes to play 140 games a season for the next three years.

"I feel I still have a lot of baseball left in me," Mantle said. "I hope to play at least 140 games next year and for the next two seasons after that. Who knows? I might be able to play five more years."

The injury-prone slugger came to New York from his home in Dallas for a meeting of the Hodgkins Disease foundation, of which he is co-chairman. His father died of the disease at the age of 42.

Mantle played in 143 games last season, batting .303, driving in 111 runs and slugging 35 homers. Toward the end of the season, manager Yogi Berra used him in right and left fields rather than his usual position in center.

Paul Ostyn. And with those two games coming up the week-end, spotlight will remain on Twin Falls.

There is a special treat, however, for east-end fans in the annual Declo holiday tournament.

The tournament will begin at 7 p.m. both nights with Murtough meeting Rockland in the first game. Friday and Declo meeting Rialto in the second. Saturday night the tournament will conclude with Friday's game playing at 7 p.m. and the winner vying for the title in the finale.

Going into the final big week-end before the holiday vacation, Gooding's Ron Adamson is running away with the individual scoring leadership. The big junior has 140 points in six games, including the year's best in the quarter game so far, 30. He is the only player over 100 but following him are Leo McChes, Glenns Perry, 80, and Ron Knowles, District 78.

After that three-game come "Terry Sims, Glenns Perry, 49; Kirk Williams, Twin Falls, 64; Gary West, Castleford, 62; Kay Wells, Oakley, and Bob Gould, Hagerman, 57; Dan Taylor, Wendell, 55; Larry Anderson, Tard, 52; and Carter, Castleford, 51.

Hansen's Anderson is leading the way in free throws with 33, just one more than Adamson. And the Huskies, off to their best start in years, can show the reason why from free throw statistics. The Huskies had converted 78 opponent fouls into 78 free points, easily the best in the league. They were charged with the most fouls—108.

Borah, which drew 12 of the 18 first place votes in this week's Associated Press poll, will probably pick up the other four if it can beat up Twin Falls, as the Bruins accounted for those the Lions didn't get.

Coach Murray Batterfield has five boys 6 feet, 5 inches or taller, and some smaller, 6-foot, 2 inches on the bench. The Lions have the 510-200 pound non-league player, Kimbrey, who has scored 24 points in his first two games. Twin Falls is tops in defense and second offensively.

Nampa brings along four of the five boys who started here last year including leading scorer Tom Baird, 6-foot, 6 inches, who has 76 points, and Ron Nell, who had his greatest game on the Bruin court last season. Nell is 6 feet, 3 inches.

"Our conference season starts with a bang and it could end just as quickly," says a.o.c.h. Oakley, "but I don't have the material to blow us out of the gym."

In this league you have to win at home or you haven't a chance at the title. We think we have a chance—but I can't tell you more about it Sunday morning.

The Jerome Tigers (2-2) who were upset for three quarters by a zone defense against Minico, run into another zone Friday when they host the Mountain Home Tigers (0-5) in a South-central Idaho conference game.

Minico (0-3) traveling to hoster (2-2) in what should be a typical east-end dog fight. Gooding (5-1) stays home to host an unknown quantity in the American Falls Beavers, while the Wood River Wolverines (0-4) return an early visit to Ellers (2-2).

In another return match, the Valley Vikings (3-1) will be out to make it two in a row over the Indians at Buhl (1-3). Valley dribbled the Indians 65-52 in a season opener. Injuries to Terry Dowd (infected foot) and Clark

Baird Leads South Idaho Loop Scorers

Nampa's Tom Baird, a 6-foot, 5-inch senior, playing his third year as a starter, is setting a hot early season pace for South Idaho conference scorers.

Baird has 76 points in four games but his shooting accuracy is his big point. He has hit on 30 of 40 field goal attempts for a .552 percentage and 16 of 22 from the line for .727.

From a 6-foot, 1-inch senior, Kirk Williams is running second in scoring with 64 points in four outings and a .459 percentage from the field. Williams also is the league's defending free throw accuracy leader, a respectable .750 with eight of 12 conversions. But he is running behind Highland's Gary Berg, who is .842 on 10 of 12 and Gary Freeman, Borah, who has nine of 11 for .818.

Ron Nell, Nampa, fourth in scoring, and Jack Smith, Borah, runner-up, have a more dubious distinction of leading the loop with 14 fouls each.

Heading into the conference's opening week-end undefeated, Borah, ranked No. 1 in the state, and Twin Falls (4-0) lead the team statistics. Borah has scored 242 points while Twin Falls second at 227. The teams exchange positions defensively. Twin Falls limiting four fouls to 108 while Borah has allowed 173.

Borah is the top free throw shooting team with .600 while defending champion Twin Falls, boasting more of the men from the state, is wallowing with a lowly .471. From the field Borah is hitting at a .404 clip with Nampa second at .387.

Griffin (broken nose) made those boys doubtful but possible starters.

Winless Kimberly (0-4) stays home to entertain out-of-district North Galt.

Just one of the A-A schools test sophomore teams. The undefeated Camas County Mustangs will play Twin Falls' sophomores in a preliminary to the Nampa game while the District Blue Devils (3-2) will be at Gooding prior to the American Falls tilt.

Saturday night's action will find the Valley Vikings (3-1) traveling to Aberdeen while Jerome stays home to entertain American Falls.

Gooding makes its second sortie into the Southern Idaho conference, moving into Boise. Ellers will be at Valley while Wendell (1-3) will be at Hagerman (3-1) trying to even up an earlier season loss.

Oakley will travel across the Valley to test the Indians at Shoshone. If the Indians will be without their two big men, George and Fred Trenkle, who probably will be out for another three weeks due to calcium deposits in their legs.

Hansen (3-1) will host North Gem and Carey will entertain Arco, a team the Panthers ripped earlier this year.

Twin Falls sophomores draw their second varsity test of the season, visiting the Blias Beers in the preliminary to the Borah game.

Buffalo Has Six Men On All-AFL Squad

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Buffalo placed six men on The Associated Press' all-star team of the American Football league and Boston and San Diego each earned five positions in the voting of the 24-man panel, three from each league city. The Buffalo team that dominated the league in early season play while reeling off nine straight victories put tackle Stew Barber, guard Billy Shaw and fullback Cookie Gilchrist on the offensive unit and tackle Tom Seak, linebacker Mike Stratton and safety George Scales on the defensive team.

Boston's contingent includes quarterback Babe Parilli and guard Billy Neighbors plus defensive end Larry Eisenhauer, linebacker Nick Buoniconti and safety Ron Hall.

San Diego spotted flanker Lance Alworth, running back Keith Lincoln and offensive tackle Ron Mix on the first club along with defensive end Earl Frazier and Ernie Ladd, the 6-foot, 6-inch, 321-pound defensive tackle.

Kansas City's Fred Arabians won the tight end position by a landslide vote and cornerback Dave Grayson of the Chiefs also made the first team.

New York's lone representative was corner linebacker Larry Grantham. Houston placed flanker end Charley Hennigan, the league's leading pass catcher, Jim Otto, an all-star center in every year of the league's existence, was Oakland's only contribution, and corner back Willie Brown of Denver was the Broncos' only representative.

No rookies made the first team but three made the second including fullback Matt Snell of New York, center Jon Morris of Boston and cornerback Pete Jacobsen of Houston.

Gilchrist was the only unanimous choice for any position although his teammate Seak was named on 22 of the 24 ballots, and Shaw, another Bill, got 21 ballots. Buoniconti of Boston received 20 votes.

Eleven men are repeaters from last year. They are: Alworth, Lincoln, Mix, Barber, Shaw and Arabians on offense and Frazier, Seak, Eisenhauer and Grantham on defense. Of this group Barber, Mix, Eisenhauer and Grantham also were on the 1963 team.

Saban Will Return as Pats' Coach

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 17 (AP)—Lou Saban, whose Buffalo Bills will battle the Boston Patriots Sunday for the American Football league's Eastern division championship, will return as coach next season with a salary increase, owner Ralph Wilson said Wednesday.

"Lou works on a year-to-year, 15-month basis," Wilson said. "It's more or less on the basis of a handshake. I'd like to continue the arrangement."

It was believed that Saban, whose Bills have won 11 games and lost two this season, had a two-year contract scheduled to expire Jan. 1.

Wilson said he told Saban at the end of last season, after the Bills defeated Buffalo in a playoff game for the Eastern title, that he could have the Bills' head coaching job "as long as he liked."

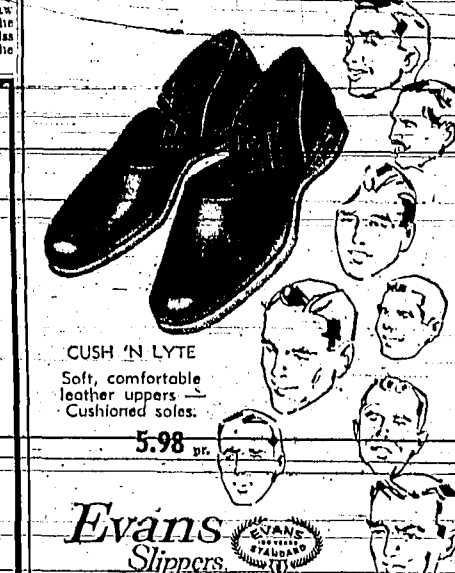

"That's the way I do business," Wilson said. "I'm against long-term contracts. They're a one-way street. If the coach wants to leave to take another job, he can."

Los Angeles Wins Overtime Contest

DETROIT, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers struck in overtime Wednesday night to beat the Detroit Pistons 124-122, retaining their one and one-half game lead in the Western division.

Two free throws by Elgin Baylor and a basket by Jerry West in the first 45 seconds of the extra session put the Lakers ahead for keeps. Detroit had scored four points in one possession before the regulation time expired.

Trailing 111-107 with four seconds left in the fourth period, the Pistons picked up two points on a pair of free throws by Ray Allen. Then, in the overtime, the Lakers fouled it out of bounds, stopping the clock with three seconds to go.

Before time could be restored, Eddie Miles of the Pistons was deliberately fouled. He made two free throws to deadlock the contest.

ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

Right now the juiciest plum on the Idaho athletic scene is the University of Idaho, filed in a Twin Falls high school.

Paul Oystyn leaves a legacy of high school football in the competition of the new football stadium.

Twins, Twin Falls can offer a high school physical plant. It is perhaps the only large high school that can accommodate its major sports (except basketball) within a 100-yard radius and have all the things—totally owned by the school.

While the physical plant is something to be proud of, it never had before. A complete program encompassing basketball from the first grade (Twin Falls to the city) and basketball, football and track programs from the fourth grade on up.

The board also has seven months to make its decision, it has more to offer than ever before, it can be meticulous and choosy.

The chatter on the street concerns identities of new football and basketball coaches. They are secondary.

Right now Twin Falls high school must seek out its choice as athletic director. Nothing should be done until that job is complete. The entire athletic structure in the district, from assistant coaches on down, hinges on this selection. The substantial progress made under Oystyn's reign can be improved or dashed in this choice.

The position of high school athletic director is particularly important. It is a high school conference coach. It demands discipline and dedication.

With the contrast in football competition, even more so, the school will have to look out of state for its games. Wilson has left the schedule. Jensen will play only one more year.

The addition of Capital at Boise will help next year but a non-conference vacancy will persist the year after. A nine-game schedule is no answer.

But scheduling is perhaps the heart of the myriad things that Paul Oystyn's drive will force on a new athletic director.

It is setting up travel, eating and sleeping accommodations, not for just the varsity but every Twin Falls team. Robert Stuart and O'Leary eight grade teams included. It is establishing each of the seven teams playing inter-scholastically to line up a schedule. It is helping form and supervise the flag and seven-grade leagues—and this includes scheduling and designating officials.

It is helping keep the Bruin boosters alive by arming each Thursday morning at 7, doing the laundry to save that extra $400 a year for equipment, repairs and replacement. It is publicizing.

Football and basketball are the major sports but track is the fastest to operate. No less than 17 officials are needed to operate a 100-yard race. The athletic director must check the sound card, procure those officials if it doesn't exist. Twin Falls is left with an official-finder rather than a track coach during the early of major meets.

It is a 12-month job. Christmas vacation included. It is seeing to the perpetuation of the summer physical fitness course. There have been points covered in the above outline. They are many minor, more time consuming details.

Athletic director is the primary target.

Best Game of Year Posted By Rhome

By The Associated Press

Post-season honors continued to pile up for Jerry Rhome Thursday when the Tulsa quarterback's record-shattering effort against Oklahoma State was rated the most spectacular college football game in the annual Associated Press poll.

Against a team which had been ranked No. 1 in pass defense, Rhome connected on 35 passes for 440 yards and for 504 yards of total offense. He set records in all three categories in the 61-14 victory of Oct. 31.

The Hurricanes' star won a breeze in the balloting by writers and broadcasters. Twenty-five selected his performance against Oklahoma State, in addition, 27 more singled other games in which Rhome starred.

Ten voters named the Oct. 17 game against Louisville during which Rhome passed for a record seven touchdowns.

Jim Grabowski of Illinois was the only other player to finish in double figures, 16—polled 12 votes for his showing in the 19-9 conquest of Wisconsin Nov. 24.

Grabowski rushed for 239 yards, breaking the Big Ten record established by Red Grange in 1924.

Floyd Little of Syracuse and Bob Griese of Michigan, each captured eight votes. Little for his five-touchdown effort in a 38-6 triumph over Kansas Sept. 28 and Timberlake for leading the Wolverines to a 10-0 victory over Ohio State Nov. 24 and over the New Year's day Rose Bowl.

Vandals' Grid Win Over WSU Is Selected as Top Story in Idaho

BOISE, Dec. 17 (UPI)—Idaho sports editors and broadcasters today declared the Idaho football Vandals' Oct. 24 conquest of Washington State the biggest sports story of the year in the Gem state. The Vandals' 28-13 victory—first in a decade over the arch rival Cougars—was recorded first place in a United Press International poll. Second in the balloting was the feat of Boisean Larry Jackson.

The veteran Chicago Cubs right-hander was cited for leading major-league baseball with 24 pitching wins and winning record in voting for the Cy Young Award.

The names of the constellation of Idaho sports prominent in national sports were sprinkled liberally through the top 10. They included Boise Valley golfer Dean Oliver, Caldwell roller skater Englehorn and Dayville sprinter Harmon Killbrow.

Voted the third most outstanding Idaho sports event of the year was the reorganization of the venerable Pioneer baseball league. The year saw the circuit reconstituted as a four-team, all-Idaho rookie league. The hookup turned in a successful season and mapped plans for another round in 1965.

High school sports rated high in the poll. Fourth was the Capital city veterans day football game which saw the Boise Braves finally beat crooked town rival Borah after seven years of trying and claim the mythical state high school grid.

Oliver captured the fifth spot. The Idaho rodeo star's contribution for the year was his second straight world champion cowboy title.

The sixth selection was the start of pari-mutuel horse racing in Idaho. Authorized in 1963 by the legislature, the racing program got its start with a series of summer and autumn meets.

Killbrow's exploits for the Minnesota Twins ranked the seventh selection. He won 40 home runs to again lead the major leagues in the department.

Eighth in the balloting was the announcement of retirement plans by J. A. (Babe) Brown, the College of Idaho athletic director, who had coached Gem state athletes teams for 36 years.

Miss Englehorn took the ninth spot in the poll. Her performance on the professional golf circuit generated sports news throughout the year. The Caldwell girl also was elected president of the Ladies Professional Golf association during the year.

A tie resulted for the poll's 10th position. The Lewiston Junior American Legion basketball team won twice by a 40-30 margin in the semifinals of the national junior league tournament.

Colorado Sinks Wyoming 68-63

BOULDER, Colo., Dec. 17 (AP)—Outshot from the field, Colorado hit 30-of-39 free throws to conquer Wyoming 68-63 Wednesday night.

Wyoming with 23 baskets to 10 for Colorado, lost a chance in the last 20 seconds to tie the contest when Leon Clark missed a free throw and Flynn Robinson, the game's top scorer with 20, missed a lay-up.

Wyoming was trailing 63-60 at the time.

The visiting Cowboys were in front most of the half but lost late surge led by Mike Prink, Bob Myers and Lynn Baker.

Colorado's leading scorer, Larry Brown, hit 10 of 13 shots.

Holovac Is Named AFL Coach of Year

BOSTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—It's an honor. But I'd trade everything for a victory over Buffalo Sunday—and that championship. The reaction sums up Michael J. Holovac of the Boston Patriots, just named American Football league coach of the year by the Associated Press.

No matter how well things might be going, Iron Mike always acts like a man who has another—and bigger—job ahead.

This week he does.

Holovac's Patriots, the defending Eastern division champions, play Buffalo here Sunday with that regional snowstorm. If the snow works, Holovac has inspired gets past that one as the odds-makers predict.

Boston will have a chance to avenge last year's 31-10 title game loss to San Diego. Holovac, 38, is being given prime consideration for the renewal of one of the nation's most colorful college rivalries.

The game is definitely scheduled for Oct. 9, 1965, but the site is still a topic of discussion between the two schools, the spokesmen said.

No announcement is planned until next month, he added.

Army and Notre Dame also will play each other in 1965. That game will be an Irish home contest.

One possible roadblock in the way of a Philadelphia game with the Philadelphia Eagles is the Philadelphia Eagles, who nearly won the national league pennant this past season, must be considered a strong contender again for 1965.

If they should win the pennant, the Phillies would be the host team for the world series on Oct. 9, the day of the 1965 ball game. The New York Mets aren't considered a likely contender for the NL pennant, thus avoiding a conflict in New York.

The 25-year-old New York series is expected because of the intense effects created by the rivalry.

Gambing and ticket scalping abounded.

West Point officials also felt the game had taken on a circus-like atmosphere, even overshadowing the Navy game as far as the cadets were concerned.

"This team with its blocks and tackles" spoke "It's the best team in the league. At least, I think it is."

"There's no question it has fine spirit. There will be questions this Sunday. If the Bills don't hit that long pass on us too often and the Babe is clicking we'll be all right."

"We've waited a long time to get the chance to play for the title and we're not going to lose out now."

Duke Rallies to Edge Clemson

CLEMSON, S. C., Dec. 17 (AP)—Steve Vance's field goal with 3:34 left put Duke ahead for only the fourth time in the game and the sixth ranked Blue Devils held on for an 80-77 victory over Clemson Wednesday night.

Vance scored Duke's final 10 points and his 23 points kept the Blue Devils close enough for the final surge in a game that was Clemson's most of the year.

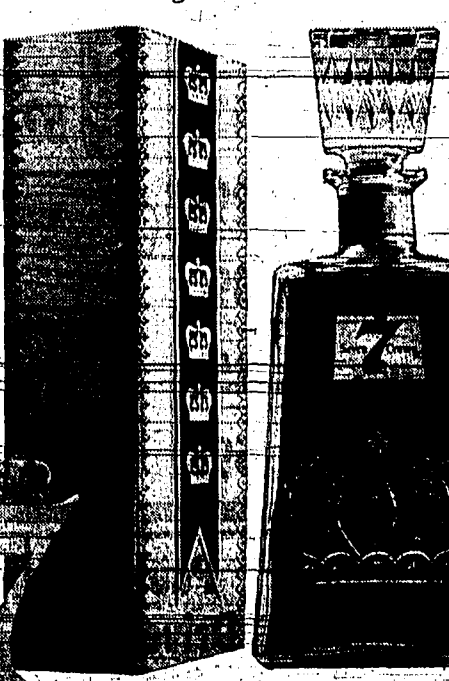

Three teams posted victories in the Twin Falls City league Wednesday night.

Calling 12 points from Nick Pletcher, Paul Cigar counted to a 62-32 victory over Cappel's Texaco. Gary Callen netted 10 for the losers.

Springing Louie, behind the springing of Bill Trujillo, slipped just short of the Sport Center 31-28. Trujillo ended the night with nine, while Dale Williams scored seven for the losers.

Mildon's won their first game of the season by dumping the Twin Falls recreation department 31-23. Donnie Walkup ripped the nets with 11 points to lead the winners in scoring and Dave Johnson tallied seven for the losers.

For Those With Everything There Are Odd, Expensive Gifts to Be Obtained

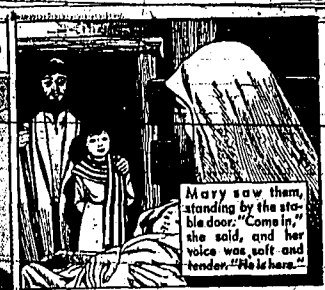

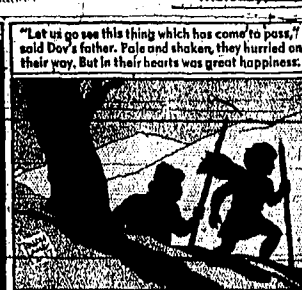

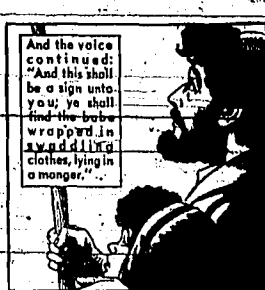

AN SPECIAL REPORT
BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
TWIN FALLS, Dec. 17 (U-P)—For the woman, child, and yes, even the pet, who has everything, there is still hope. This Christmas, a hefty check, there are to be obtained:
—A hand-knit air balloons, will-to-will-mink-carpentering, "wemo" thing boxes, "nothing" rocks, and nukes — among other sports-car kills — among other little trinkets.
—The kiddies a Copernican model 500 planetarium at $595 is this year's holiday special. At $1,000, a holiday dandy in a collar of diamonds and emeralds at $125,000.
—A 20,000-piece collection of hand-painted soldiers at New York's F. A. O. Schwartz to be had for $10,000.
—For the ladies, mink hangers in any shade to match the minks in the closet are big sellers at George Kaplan's, New York.
—Prices of safety pins run $250 each in Magnin's jewelry department, but they're diamond-encrusted. At Neiman-Marcus, Dallas, Tex., a holiday dandy in a collar of diamonds and emeralds at $125,000.
—Bathrobes, floor-length and some upped, are really hot year's fashions. But a few are around at the big name furriers in New York for upwards of $400.
—For a four-figure check, you can buy a mink-jumper, white mink knickers, or cranial lamb slacks.
—For the man of the house, if he's a drinker, from Neiman-Marcus a "volier case" concealing a baby fifth may strike a chord with him. A hollowed-out case, walking stick at Abercrombie and Fitch, $1850, can be filled with some staggering stuff. Also available there is a silver flask with two openings for a double-quick kick.

For the home redecorator from the ground up with wall-to-wall mink carpeting installed by George Kaplan's on Christmas eve, for $200 a square yard. Or there's a hop-scotch rug by Norman de Viberia for around $800 with the game all mapped out for adults who never grew up.
For the kitchen or opulent camping, New York's Tiffany's makes a sterling silver fry pan for $300. Or for $1,000 also at this store you can buy the warden tool, a glittering silver spoon.
The Doggery, a pet supply shop in Beverly Hills, Calif., sells $200 mink coats, ski sweaters with turtle necks, wool coats with muskrat collars, sunglasses, red flannel pajamas, raincoats, rain boots — and personalized, diamond place mats, all for dogs.

For the man with cold feet electric socks, battery operated, $14.95 at Hammacher Schlemmer.
For nobody much: a nothing rock. The hollow rock contains a diamond marker with such words as: "On this spot, Feb. 20, 1776, absolutely nothing happened." $30 at Hammacher Schlemmer.
For mere humans, a something box that blinks and blinks like a compact computer for one year and then goes dead, irreparably, $25 at Hammacher Schlemmer.
For him and her: real mon-

Young Thumber

RICHMOND, Ky., Dec. 17 (U-P)—Three-year-old Jeff Blackwell disappeared from his home here yesterday, leaving out a family search by parents and police.
It was police who found him several hours later, standing at an interchange of Interstate highway 75 outside of town — trying to thumb a ride in the general direction of Lexington, 25 miles away.
Jeff explained to officers, "I had some Christmas shopping to do."

Historian Finds Marker Error at Tea Party Site

BOSTON, Dec. 17 (U-P)—A Williams college historian has discovered an error on the tablet which for half a century has marked the site of the Boston Tea Party of 1773.
The Boston Tea Party association said that Benjamin Woods, a professor of history at Williams, had established that the tablet was in error in indicating that 342 chests of tea were tossed into Boston harbor on that historic night.
The organization said that Woods, who recently wrote a book titled "The Boston Tea Party," was still checking but would be able to announce the correct figure within 10 days. His source is the original bills of lading for the three ships involved in the tea party.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, Dec. 17—Born today, you are exceptionally versatile and it will be most important that while you are still young, you come to some decision regarding a career. Otherwise, you may find yourself a quite proficient Jack of all trades, but certainly not the master you might be if you selected and followed only one line of endeavor. You are outspoken and have no qualms whatever about broadcasting your own beliefs, ideas, ambitions, etc. You will probably have to contend with a great deal of criticism because of this outspokenness, but only because you speak too soon, not because you could learn to keep your own counsel until your ideas were more or less practical, you might be better off.

You have a keen imagination of the sort that puts you into almost immediate contact with children. You would make an outstanding parent for just this reason, and an excellent guidance counselor for your own children and those of other people. Only take care that you do not place too little value on this particular gift, and begin to talk down to children; they are, more than anyone else, not easily fooled!

Among those born on this date are: John Greenleaf Whittier, American poet, editor, abolitionist; Percy Dwyer, English Nobel Prize-winning scientist.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, Dec. 18
BAOITARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Not the day for measuring the degree of your success. These are atypical times for Baitarius!
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 30)—Make the first move toward patching up long-term quarrels. You can ill afford to make or keep enemies at this point.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 31-Feb. 19)—Set aside some time for following mental pursuits of the highest order. Cultural activities should rank high on the agenda.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise. Avoid any appearance of having advance knowledge you should not possess.
ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Meager efforts result in meager results. The Aries who would reap this day's rewards had best set to work early in the morning.
TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—You can make excellent use of your gift of humor today. Take along with a modest application of laughter.
GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—

Blaine Pilots Assured of Facilities

HAILEY, Dec. 16—Pilots and users of the new airport here have been assured by Chet Moulton, Boise, state aeronautics director, they probably will be given permission to provide additional facilities at the airport if they meet required state specifications.

He spoke at a meeting in the courthouse here Monday night attended by Blaine county commissioners, Hailey city councilmen, Winston McCrea, Sun Valley manager; Louis Blum, representing the Soaring association; Lawrence Johnson, airport manager, and pilots from Montana and California.

The group pointed out the airport, jointly operated by the state, county and city, does not have adequate hangars or even room for facilities. Moulton said additional hangars would have to be built on the east side of the airport north of the present forest service borate-landing station.

Only facilities at present at the airport are small offices for West Coast airlines and Johnson. It is possible Johnson would be permitted to enlarge his facilities on the east side, Moulton said.

Permission also probably will be granted for additional glider facilities, Moulton said. If private facilities wish to spend the money and meet specifications, more and will be put on the runway next spring, he added.

Blum said the Idaho Gliding association has put in a bid to hold the Western States gliding championship here next year but this will be possible only if more and additional facilities can be provided.

Blum and take off facilities are needed. Some 350 soaring planes are expected to participate in the Western States meet.

Arsonist on Parole Sets Deadly Fire

CHICAGO, Dec. 17—"I can't help myself," Alan Norcutt said yesterday.

"I got an urge to set fire," arson detective John Tyndall quoted Norcutt. "I don't know why. Sometimes inside makes me want to do it."

Norcutt, 17, tried to tell Tyndall why he set a fire that killed a fireman only 10 days after he was paroled from a reform school for arson. He said he was inside making two rooming house tenants.

Norcutt was charged yesterday with two counts of arson. Authorities said they also were considering lodging a murder-by-arson charge against him in the death of Herman Joseph E. Carone, 48, Sunday.

Carone, the father of five, plunged three floors to his death when a floor collapsed in a burning warehouse on the near north side. Six other firemen were injured in the building collapse.

A Munich by Harry Lustig, a juvenile officer who worked on the Norcutt case 18 months ago, led to Norcutt's admission.

When Lustig read of the fatal fire Sunday, he wondered if Norcutt was the arsonist.

Large, Norcutt had been sentenced to the custody of the Illinois youth commission in August 1963, by criminal court Judge Walter P. Dahl after the youth admitted setting 33 fires, including the fatal rooming house blaze.

The youth commission in turn sent Norcutt to Sheridan reformatory. Lustig called the reformatory. He was told that Norcutt had been paroled Nov.

Filer Man Is Uninjured as Car Hits Cow

Glendale, Dec. 17—Filer, escaped injury when the 1955 Ford he was driving at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday, two miles west of Filer, hit a cow.

Deputy sheriffs reported Fischer had just driven his vehicle across a canal bridge when he noticed the cow. He was unable to stop and the car hit the cow, which was owned by Ira Lancaster, Filer.

The cow was not killed.

Deputy sheriffs also investigated a two-car accident caused by slick roads at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday, five miles southeast of Buhl. No injuries were reported.

William A. Blombaugh, 54, route 1, Buhl, was driving a 1960 Ford east on a county road when the vehicle collided with a 1965 Oldsmobile driven north on a county road by Clara B. Jagala, 28, route 1, Buhl.

Deputies said the Oldsmobile slid into the path of Blombaugh's Ford. No citation was issued.

Student Hoax Grows Into Unruly Riot

HUFAALO, N.Y., Dec. 17 (AP)—A crowd of more than 2,000 University of Buffalo students surged through the O'Connell Buffalo International airport yesterday in an unruly demonstration which grew out of a planned student hoax.

Police said that between 2,000 and 3,000 students demonstrated for more than an hour at the airport. No arrests were made and no injuries were reported. The students gathered to protest the arrival of a "dignitary" from a non-existent Arabian country.

The "dignitary" was actually a student clown in New York early Wednesday and then back again to make the appearance.

The phony dignitary was taken into "protective custody" by police. The student whose name was not disclosed, was later released. Police said they would confer with the district attorney's office about any arrests.

Police estimated damage to the terminal at about $200. The airport manager said the damage was closer to $2,000.

One airport official, who asked not to be identified, said the incident was "a shabby demonstration for money and for the University of Buffalo."

The university said it regretted any damage that occurred. "Under no circumstances do we condone the destruction of property by anyone," said Dr. Richard A. Silgorkow, dean of students.

It was learned that the university's freshman class had organized the hoax. It was also learned that a spokesman for the class has offered to pay for any damage.

Police Lieut. B. L. Kozlowski said of the students, "uncontrolled, but they didn't appear to be malicious."

A student group had originally planned to demonstrate against the dignitary's arrival for his anti-semitic stand. The students had informed the local press of their intentions, but did not say it was a hoax.

Police said about eight officers were waiting as a precaution for the plane to arrive when the crowd swelled. Another 80 officers, including state police and sheriff's deputies, were called when the throng began to get out of hand, Kozlowski said.

The students broke windows and chairs and overturned ash trays in the airport main terminal before police were able to restore order.

Witnesses said at one point the student tried to get escalators running from the ground level. A group of students tried to overturn the car of a radio-television reporter, witnesses said.

Juan Peron Trades Dream of Power for Exile in Spain

MADRID, Dec. 17 (AP)—Former Argentine president Juan Peron has traded his dream of returning to power in Argentina for a comfortable exile in Spain, the Spanish government announced yesterday.

An information ministry spokesman said the former Argentine president, offered the alternative of quitting politics or leaving Spain within one month, accepted the conditions demanded by the Spanish government.

A few hours after the announcement Peron and his young wife, Isabella, drove away in his Mercedes car from the southern resort of Torremolinos. They told newsmen they were driving to Malaga.

Peron's decision climaxed a two-week drama that began Dec. 9 when he boarded an Iberia Airlines plane in Madrid in an attempt to return to Buenos Aires. In hope his arrival would spark a revolt and return him to power.

Rodeo Star Is Slain in Altercation

PRINEVILLE, Ore., Dec. 17 (AP)—Mac Griffith, a 25-year-old cowboy from Pilot Rock, Ore., who earned fame as one of the West's circuit cowhands in the West, was shot and killed following a barroom brawl here yesterday.

Dennis Harvey, 33, a Prineville mechanic, was charged in connection with the slaying. Authorities said Griffith, who won the all-around cowboy title at the 1963 Pendleton Round-up, was involved in an altercation that began in a cocktail lounge. The fight moved to the parking lot of a nearby bar and he was shot.

He died during surgery at a hospital half an hour after the shooting. Several persons were involved in the original brawl, according to Police Chief Mike Thompson. The chief said cause of the fight and the details of the shooting were not clear. Harvey was arrested at his home. Dist. Atty. Douglas Shepard said witnesses and others involved would be questioned. He indicated there was a great deal of information to be sifted.

Griffith had arrived at the central Oregon community during the past day or two. He is survived by a wife at Pilot Rock.
